A THIRD PARTY LOOMS—

It looks very much like there will be a third party in the election and the prospects give Democrats the jitters. While a third party will of course take votes from the Republican as well as the Democratic ranks, it must be borne in mind that the third party is headed by Townsend, Coughlin and Lemke, the three of them leaders with radical followings—and the Democrats owe their existence today to radicals. It is this following of radicals that has placed Democrats in power and it is this same radical element that causes Democratic leaders concern for they know that their vote will go to the ticket that promises the most. It is doubly embarassing for Democrats for they dare not promise any more for fear of alienating the already highly dissatisfied old-line, conservative Democrats and the loss of any considerable number of either wing, radicals or conservatives, from Democratic ranks is going to spell finis for them in the coming election.

MAUDLIN SENTIMENT FOR CRIMINALS—

It is difficult to understand these noisy guardians of principles who make up the small but troublesome group that are always objecting to the punishment of criminals. A few misguided morons in San Francisco got out an injunction to prevent the extermination of a mad, killer elephant in the Fleishacker zoo. The elephant is extremely dangerous having killed his keeper and liable at any moment, in a burst of lust maddened fury, to break loose from heavy chains and go on a killing rampage too horrible to think about.

Objectors to the killing of the elephant are of the same mentality of those who want to turn loose dangerous criminals such as kidnappers and arch gangsters. Objectors to the course of justice are never able to do anything but object—in this case those objecting to killing the elephant, will not contribute a dime to take care of it and it goes without saying that none of the objectors would want to be the elephant's keeper.

It just depends on whose ox is being gored.

CALIFORNIA'S POLITICS—

California's state administration is beginning to smell to the high heavens with graft and crookedness of all kinds. The lid blew off some time ago with sensational charges about the state treasurer's office but charges were soon hushed up. Now we have a situation in the office of the state equalization board that is a disgrace to any law abiding people and which should be cleaned out from top to bottom and the offenders sent to prison. Wholesale charges of bribery, extortion and political rake-offs and cuts, follow one after another and through all of the stinking mess Governor Merriam announces that he will have a "hands off" policy. It is notable that Governor Merriam's attitude in similar instances has been a "hands off" policy—so much so that the voter and taxpayer is beginning to wonder if Merriam's "hands off" policy may really be a camoflage for a "hands in" on the various crookedness.

PRESERVE CARMEL'S BEAUTY—

There is not a doubt in the world but what Carmel is going to double in population in the next two or three years and that the entire Peninsula is on the eve of a phenomenal growth. While there are many who want to keep Carmel a small village, that is going to be impossible, but it is entirely possible to prevent destruction of Carmel's beauty and develop its growth along the distinctive lines that have made it famous the world over.

There is a steady inflow of new residents and businesses, and it is amazing how many of these newscomers, attracted here by Carmel's picturesque charm, start right in to eliminate the very charm that brought them to Carmel. Trees are chopped

In searching through histories this week for interesting bits for this column, we came across the story of the beginning of Colton Hall in Monterey.

Concerning an election called by Governor Riley to elect delegates in 1849 to form some sort of government for the state, Cleland said:

In accordance with the date set by Riley's proclamation, a few of the delegates met at Monterey on September 1st; but it was not until the following Tuesday (the 4th) that the convention was formally organized. Dr. Robert Semple, of tall stature and Bear Flag fame, was elected president; and Captain William G. Marcy of the Stevenson regiment, chosen as secretary. The meetings of the convention were held in a school house newly erected by the American alcalde, through the labor of convicts, the taxes on rum and the banks of the gamblers. In honor of its builder, it was known as Colton Hall. The convention met in the upper story, which consisted of a single room, some 60 feet long by 25 feet wide. The following paragraph from a contemporary description gives a picture of the convention and its meeting place:

"A railing running across the middle of the hall, divided the members from the spectators. The former were seated at four long tables, the President occupying a rostrum at the further end, over which were suspended two American flags and an extraordinary picture of Washington, evidently the work of a native artist. The appearance of the whole body was exceedingly dignified and intellectual and parliamentary decorum was strictly observed."

Cleland then tells how the constitution was framed and an election called and that rain and apathy caused a vote of 12,064 out of a possible 100,000. Only 811 votes, he wrote, were cast against the new con-

PENINSULA YOUNG FOLK WED TUESDAY EVENING

Before an altar banked with ferns, palms and flowers, Miss Lois McCaman and Mr. Maurice Grimshaw took their marriage vows Tuesday night at the Woman's Civic club in Pacific Grove at eight o'clock.

The ceremony was performed by the groom's uncle, Ronald Hodges, and the bride's father gave her away.

While the guests were gathering in, Miss Jean Crouch with her 'cello and Miss Joan Clague at the piano gave several selections, and also played the wedding march as the bride came to meet the groom at the altar.

The petite bride was beautiful in old ivory satin, with a garland of gardenias in her hair and carrying an arm bouquet of the same flowers.

The bridesmaids and maid of honor were dressed in pink organza and carried bouquets of sweet peas, while the groom, best man and ushers were in the conventional black.

Bridesmaids were Miss Melba Hodges and Mrs. Charles Grimshaw, while Miss Roselyn Bridler was maid of honor. Charles Grimshaw acted as best man for his brother, and Ronald Hodges and Doyle Jordan were the

MISS CLARISE BEACH AND MR. HAL M. DECKER WED

The New Monterey Baptist church was the scene Sunday of the wedding of Miss Clarice Beach of East Monterey and Mr. Hal M. Decker of Pacific Grove.

The altar and the entire church were profusely decorated in greenery and flowers. Mrs. C. B. Bentley sang two solos and Wesley Chase played the wedding march. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William V. Morgan.

Miss Barbara Brown was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Misses Donna Jean Parker, Mary Hufford, Arlene Fuller and Doris Young. Little Alice Joy Bentley was flower girl. Fred Decker acted as his brother's best man and Victor Rink, Jack Uzzell, James McGowan and Mangus Flaws were ushers.

Col. and Mrs. G. C. Lawrence and Miss Charlotte Lawrence entertained at supper Sunday evening informally.

The Boy Scout camp at Big Sur park is now open and 102 scouts and 15 adult leaders are in attendance already. Carmel boys will go for the most part for the last two weeks of the month, which ends July 15.

down, demands are made for sidewalks, signs, lights, and hideous buildings that would soon make Carmel little more than any of the little boom towns too numerous in California. The city council should be doubly cautious in preserving Carmel's beauty and never lose sight of the fact that a large percentage of the people who want to develop Carmel have an axe of their own to grind and want everyone else to be rsstricted while demanding special privileges f or themselves.

NEWSPAPER ACCURACY (?)—

It is not surprising that the public in general is contemptuous of newspaper accuracy in view of the endless absurdities printed by editors trying to write smart or entertaining paragraphs. One for instance in a late issue of "Esquire" a magazine of national circulation states that "Orrick Johns was editor of The Carmelite, published in Carmel-by-the-Sea, where Lincoln Steffins was unofficial mayor * * *" The Carmelite has not been published for four years, Orick Johns was never its editor and Lincoln Steffins probably has the least influence of any one person in Carmel.

But the prize for stupidity goes to the Santa Rosa Press-Democrat in a recent editorial stating "Business in moving off Ocean avenue, once the main thoroughfare * * * The writer of the article containing the above astonishing statement evidently was never in Carmel—if he had been he would have known that buildings on Ocean avenue are all renting at exceptionally high figures and no one for years has moved off Ocean avenue.

Esquire's editor is excusable by reason of distance but the Santa Rosa Democrat, a back door neighbor of Carmel ought to have known better. Both the items however give ample excuse for the oft repeated wise crack, "You can't believe anything you see in a newspaper."

VETERANS GETTING BONDS—

Sotneway we can't help remembering away back in '17 and '18 when the would-be orators were trumpetering the praises of the boys "over there," and the crowds were joining in on "It's a long, long way to Tipperary."

Yes, it was a long way to Tipperary, and it has been a long, long way to any financial recognition of the service demanded from the young men of our country. We used to hear the speakers foretell how this country would be run by the soldiers when they returned home, and no one else would be tolerated by a grateful public. We all know how that didn't work out, and the majority of people are glad to see the veterans have this recognition of their services, even though it is infinitessimal in comparison with what they did for us.

CARMEL'S NEW POLICE MEMBER NOW ON JOB

Roy Fraties, new member of the Carmel police force, began his duties the fifteenth, taking th place of D. E. Nixon, who is doing special work as watchman for the merchants.

Mr. Fraties knows Carmel thoroughly, having spent most of his life here. He has been prominent in the civic life of Carmel and should do well in his work.

stitution. Peter H. Burnett, a former Oregon pioneer, was chosen governor.

Hinton R. Helper, author of Impending Crisis, who spent three years in various parts of California describes a hotel in Sonora as follows: "The best hotel in the place was a one-story structure, built of unhewn saplings, covered with canvas and floored with dirt. It consists of one undivided room, in which the tables, berths and benches are all arranged. Here we sleep, eat and drink. Four or five tiers of berths or bunks, one directly above another, are built against the walls of the cabin by means of upright posts and cross pieces, fastened with thongs of rawhide. The bedding is composed of a small straw mattress about two feet wide, an uncased pillow stuffed with the same material, and a single blanket. When we creep into one of these nests it is optional with us whether we unboot or uncoat ourselves; but it would be looked upon as an act of ill breeding to go to bed with one's hat on."

Cleland said of the miners: In nearly all the mines, Sunday morning was observed as wash day, or perhaps given over to baking the week's supply of bread; while Sunday afternoon was spent at such amusements as the town afforded. Gambling was the universal pastime. The miner had his choice of roulette, monte, faro, poker, twenty-one, all fours, lansquenet, and as many other games of chance as were known to the world of that day.

Here are some more exerpts from Rev. Walter Colton's diary written while he was alcalde of this district.

Saturday, Aug. 22, 1846. Our little paper, the Californian, made its appearance again today. Many subscribers have sent in their names since our last and all have paid in advance. It is not larger than a foolscap, but this foolscap parallel stops here I hope with the shape. Be this as it may, its appearance is looked for with as much interest as was the arrival of the mail by the New Yorkers and Bostonians in those days when the moon waxed and waned in its transit.

Sunday, August 23, 1846. I officiated today on board the Savannah. There is no Protestant church here. Emigrants have generally become Roman Catholics. Policy rather than persuasion, or conviction suggested it; men that make no pretension to religion have nothing to give up in the shape of creeds or conscientious scruples.

LA COLLECTA CLUB HAS FINE MEETING

La Collecta club was delightfully entertained Wednesday of this week at the home of Mrs. Eva French in Hatton Fields.

Mrs. Clara L. Beller pleasingly rendered several piano solos and Mrs. French told of the Golden Jubilee of the Ladies of the G.A.R., she being one of the oldest living members of the organization.

A social hour and refreshments followed the program.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Henry Holliston, July 15, when the following newly elected officers will take their seats: Mrs. V. Gansell, president; Mrs. L. Slevin, vice president; Mrs. C. F. Haskell, secretary, and Mrs. D. E. Nixon, treasurer.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Vernon of Pacific Grove was the scene of a wedding last Saturday morning when Miss Nedra Whitsett and Mr. Edward Madden were joined in wedlock by Rev. William V. Morgan. The bride is a cousin of Mrs. Vernon. The newlyweds live in Grants Pass, Oregon.

MOTHS NOW HERE TO INFECT OAK TREES

Moths are hovering about the oak trees on the peninsula now and the worms will soon follow and denude the branches of all their leaves unless checked.

This is the worst visitation from these pests for about three or four years and much publicity was given at that time and the sprayers were in use constantly to kill off the worms.

According to authorities ,the worms will not be so numerous this year as the wasp parasites which lay their eggs in the body of the moth larvae, have already made their appearance, reminiding one of the old saw, "All fleas have smaller fleas upon their backs to bite 'em, and these in turn have smaller ones, and so ad infinitum."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred X. Fry are welcoming the arrival of a new boy, their fifth son at their home in Pacific Grove. The newest addition has been given the name of Mark Anderson Thomas Fry, in honor of his grandfather, their birthdays being on the same date.

RODEO IN SALINAS TO OPEN IN JULY

With a featured new attraction, the Salinas handicap with a $1,100 purse, horse racing will be one of the main features at the silver anniversary of the California Rodeo at Salinas, July 16 to 19. The Salinas handicap will be run on Friday, July 17, the second day of the rodeo.

Interesting to all California will be the selection of the state's finest outdoor girl, which will be made on Thursday July 16. She will be chosen from a group of high school girl representatives of each county in the state, and to the winner goes a trip to Alaska. A ruling has recently been made that in high school districts where the public school department does not make the selection of an entrant for the finest outdoor girl contest, the Chamber of Commerce may select either a high school junior or senior from either a public or private school. If she wins the county contest, she will then be eligible to compete in the finals at Salinas.

County champions will be royally entertained before the rodeo. On Tuesday noon, July 14, the San Francisco Rotary Club will entertain them at luncheon at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco and the girls will tell of the wonders of their home counties. Later they will broadcast over KPO of the National Broadcasting company and will be guests at the Clift Hotel at tea.

In addition to the rodeo events, the Salinas show holds unusual interest for horsemen and cattlemen. The daily horse parade, with more than 800 stock horses, and the display of remount stallions from 11 western states, plus fine displays of various breeds of beef cattle assures the attendance of stockmen.

YOUNG COUPLE MARRY AT JUDGE WOOD'S HOME

William Lucio, 26, a teacher from San Leandro, and Louise Taylor, 22, a teacher from Hayward, were married Tuesday evening at the home of Judge George Wood, the judge officiating and Mrs. Wood and Katherine Kennedy acting as witnesses.

Fred W. Pierce of Los Angeles was tagged June 6 for driving without due caution and using an operator's license which had expired in January. He was fined $15.

He: "We started out on a joy ride, but found the car was a disguise for something else."

She: "What was it a disguise for?"

He: "The trouble wagon."

MUNICIPAL LEAGUERS ENJOY THEIR OUTING

With Chief of Police Fred Moore of Monterey as head cook, and E. C. Hepple of Salinas and E. C. Walker of Monterey as able assistants, it was no wonder that the barbecue staged at the Roddie Maddock plack in Carmel Valley Saturday by the League of Municipalities was a success. Music and groups singing were under the direction of Floyd McCullom of Salinas. More than 100 persons enjoyed the affair.

Pacific Grove held a carnival that was a real one Friday and Saturday nights, celebrating their famous Open House. And from now on summer activities will be flourishing in that city.

SAN JUAN BAUTISTA PAGEANT, JUNE 20-21

The dreamy little plaza at San Juan Bautista will break into gay life on June 20 and 21 when the annual San Juan Bautista birthday celebration will be held. "Twilight of the Dons," a four-act play written especially for the occasion by Mrs. John Cuddy of San Francisco, will be the feature of the event.

Motorists planning to attend the celebration are urged by the Touring Department of the National Automobile club to make advance reservations. Each year thousands of Californians and visitors attend the Mission play and a record crowd is expected this year.

THE ISSUES

The campaign beginning with the nomination of Landon and Knox is one of the most remarkable in the political history of America. The mission of Saving America has been given the Republican Party. It has met the situation by nominating two stalwart, straighforward and intelligent leaders. Men of character, experience and proven integrity. The campaign will not be a political battle between the two great parties for office and power but a crusade under the leadership of Landon and Knox to destroy bureaucracy and the schemes of those attempting to create a Dictatorship. The Democratic Party while in power is powerless. It has been betrayed and humiliated. Its chosen leader has introduced into its council a clique of Communistic Comrades, Demagogues, Radicals and Charlatans. The Democratic Party of Jackson, Cleveland, Wilson, no longer exists. It has been hybridized, debauched and degraded. Thousands of Democrats all over the country have renounced their allegiance. A tidal wave of desertion is ready to flock to the Landon-Knox standard. Most of the old time Democrats who remain loyal do so because they have their palms oiled with the balsam of spoils, patronage and perquisites. They are willing to take orders from Tugwell, Ickes, Madame Perkins, Frankfurter, Frank, Norris and Wallace, radicals and political renegades, rather than to forfeit their portion of the spoils and pillage. The old and respected democratic Party has degenerated into a bureaucratic cabal which might well bear the name of the COMMUNAGOGS. A party dominated by interlopers, adventurers, radicals, political nondescripts and conspirators. The Republican Party is not opposing the Democratic Party in this campaign but that riffraff of marplots which have seized control of the party. The spirit of Americanism has called the challenge. To maintain a rigid standard of honesty, and fair dealing.	Set the precedent for sharp practices, evasion, default of contracts and wasteful, wanton extravagance.
Pay as you go in honest currency. The Government has no wealth other than that paid by the people in taxation. This to be used legitimately and economically.	Contract indebtedness, increase Taxation and settle in debased and depreciated money. Use the Public's money for Propaganda, Political Projects, Tammanyizing America, "It is too Damn dumb" to resent the outrage.
Encourage national pride, and foster and promote respect for American Institutions, and the American spirit of character and courage.	Promote the Communist theory, destroy individual effort, glorify dictatorship and deride American Institutions and the Constitution. Convert the masses into a plastic serfdom. "Comrades" get on Relief. Agitate on a full stomach.

"Put None but Americans on Guard Tonight."

LANDON and KNOX! Unanimously chosen by the American people, irrespective of political affiliation, race, religion, color, creed, occupation or section as worthy, competent and courageous Captains to rescue the Ship of State from piracy and pillage and safely steer it back into clear waters and fair weather.

These two capable citizens, honest and patriotic Americans are confronted with a dangerous and desperate task. We must give them every support and encouragement in order that they may drive out the Goths and Vandals, who have seized the reins of government under the pretense of loyalty to a respected and honorable political party, which they have betrayed in common with all Americans. Drunk with power, unrestrained by conscience, made insolent by greed and ambition they have deliberately set about to establish a Dictatorship, set up as Dictator, one, under the spell of alien conspirators, a cabal of Communistic intrigants who created and put into operation a program of sabbotage and pillage, plunder and have sought to destroy the American manhood by spreading the virus of class hatred and by polluting the unfortunate and the victims of adversity with the enervating, self-respect destroying drugs of Parasitism. America must be saved. Politics and political parties forgotten and all unite in defeating the Hydra of pretense, simulated sancity, in sincerity and devastating evil. "Put none but Americans on Guard tonight" said Washington. Even more perilous and critical the crisis of this hour. SAVE AMERICA! Put an end to SABOTAGE, to WASTE, to PILLAGE, to BOONDOGGLING, to HYPOCRITICAL GESTURES, to the VIOLATIONS OF THE CONSTITUTION, to the THEMES OF HATE and CLASS CLEAVAGE. SAVE AMERICA!

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Is the Universe, including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force," will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon, Sunday, June 21, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text will be: "The Lord by wisdom hath founded the earth; by understanding hath he established the heaven." (Prov. 3; 19). Other Bible citations will include: "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen * * Through faith we understand that the words were framed by the words of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do not appear" (Hebr. 11:1, 3).

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The universe, like man, is to be interpreted by Science from its divine Principle, God, and then it can be understood; but when explained on the basis of physical sense and represented as subject to growth, maturity, and decay, the universe, like man, is, and must continue to be, an enigma" (p. 124).

ORRICK JOHNS WINS NATIONAL POETRY PRIZE

The June number of Esquire gives the following notice, which is amusing if not entirely correct:

Orrick Johns (Straws in the Southwind, page 55) was the first winner of a national poetry prize. He has been editor of The Carmelite (Carmel-by-the-Sea, of which Lincoln Steffins is unofficial mayor) and The New Masses. He has published several volumes of verse, and a comedy, "A Charming Conscience," produced by Margaret Anglin in 1923. At present he is writing plays and autobiography and supervising the Federal Newspaper Project. He lives in New York City.

Mrs. Noble, formerly a resident of Carmel, but lately from Seattle, is in Carmel for two weeks at the Marshall guest house on Carmelo. She is in company with her daughter, Miss Wenner.

SUNSET GRADUATES ARE PRAISED FOR PROGRAM

Much praise is heard on all sides of the program presented by the Sunset school graduates last Thursday evening.

The pupils presented "The Builders," a pageant written by the members of the graduating class, and the perfect manner in which it was presented was pleasing to all present and was a credit to their teachers throughout their school life.

The action pictures presented were: Builders in the field of invention; builders in the field of industry; builders in the field of religion; builders in the field of government; and builders in the field of education.

Orchestral music was presented under the direction of Miss Madeline Currey and an impressive address was given by Superintendent O. W. Bardarson. Diplomas were presented by E. H. Ewig, retiring member of the Sunset trustees.

After the program refreshments and dancing were enjoyed in the lunch room.

The verse choir included: Julian Graham, Billy Frolli, Charles Candia, Dick Crossman, Laurence Leidig, Jim Rand, Maya Miyamoto, Victor Candia, Allan Wood, Peter Mawdsley, Max Drewien, Fred Marshall, Mavis Carter, Hazel Mylar, Nancy Hollingsworth, Muriel McPhillips and Georgina Ottmar.

David Hagemeyer and Miss Grace Knowles, students at San Jose state are coming home from college to take part in the Bach festival. Both are members of the college orchestra and recently took part in a radio broadcast under the direction of Adolph Otterstin.

Mrs. Fern Hyde and daughter, Miss Betty, and son, Albert Hyde, Jr., and Miss Ida Jean Hyde will spend the summer at North Falmouth, Mass., in the Goodeno cottage. They go on the Pennsylvania, passing through the canal.

OLD GLASS ATTRACTION AT "WHAT NOT" NOW

Mrs. Florence Hefling, proprietor of the Whatnot, located at the corner of Lincoln and Seventh, across from the La Ribera has been extremely fortunate recently in securing some lovely pieces of old glass for her customers, and is looking forward to seeing her friends again this summer, as lovers of pretty things soon find their way to the Whatnot.

Mrs. Hefling has four of the hens, made of "milk" glass, recently featured in the American Home magazine. And she has the black opaque plates on which to set them to show off their beauty.

Bread plates in glass are going fast, but at this time Mrs. Hefling still has a few, one of the most attractive having cut in the rim, "Give Us This Day Our Daily Bread." Three historical plates, two of Garfield and one of Grant, may also be seen here.

We were interested in the names of the patterns, such as the hand pattern with tree of life; dewdrop; lion; fine cut; hobnail; thumb print; daisy and button; rib bellflower, etc.

"Even men are going in for collecting old glass," said Mrs. Hefling, who reported that one man had expressed himself as surprised that anyone could buy modern stuff when they "could get things like these."

We were particularly impressed with the Victoria pattern fruit bowl, a tap on the rim of which brings out such a delightfully clear ringing tone. The crudeness of the stem and the bubbles in the glass, along with the ringing tone, assures one of the extreme age of the piece.

Mrs. Hefling has other things also, such as lovely wedgewood, old Chelsea ware goats, copper lustre ware and many other precious articles.

The recent craze for goblets has made that glass hard to get while glass hats and slippers have disappeared from the market. Therefore, those who are collecting should not procrastinate.—E. F. B.

To My Old Friends and New:

You will be pleased with the Large Display of Old Glass and the charming pieces I have been fortunate enough to secure recently.

I have also added many other beautiful things in different wares.

VETERANS RECEIVED BONDS THIS WEEK

Exactly 100 veterans had received the envelopes containing their bonus bonds this morning, and ten remain here for others who are out of town temporarily.

Of the one hundred, about fifty have cashed their bonds in the amount of $30,000 but it appears that a great number will be held.

Postmistress Irene Cator with J. L. Nye, assistant and Fred Mylar at the registry window handled the bonds here, while a committee from the American Legion waited in the lobby to offer identification when the registered letters were delivered Monday and Tuesday. Only two or three, however, were unknown to the postal employes, personally, Mrs. Cator said.

Receipts at the three postoffices, Monterey, Pacific Grove and Carmel, totalled 770. Monterey veterans are said to be cashing their bonds in a large number, but less than fifty per cent are cashing them in the Grove.

READ OUTSIDE PAPERS FOR NEWS FROM CARMEL

Carmel people will have to read outside papers to find out such things as stated in the following clipping from the Press-Democrat of Santa Rosa. This will, probably come as a surprise since there are no vacant buildings on Ocean avenue, and no one has moved off that street in recent years.

Anything But Creditable.

Such structures as the one now going up on Mendocino avenue opposite this office can add nothing either to the dignity of the thoroughfare or to adajcent property values. No such cracker-box affair should be permitted on an avenue like Mendocino, which is destined to a real future unless held back by short-sighted policy on the part of property owners and business men who should know better.

The town of Carmel affords a good example of what can happen when property owners fail to use good judgment in the erection of buildings intended for rent. Business is moving off of Ocean avenue, once the main thoroughfare, because most of its buildings are plain and unsightly. When they were put up little or no thought was given to appearance. Anything with four walls and a roof would do, people seemed to think then. Now, with attractive structures going up on certain of the side streets, they are getting the business and Ocean avenue property owners realize their mistake.

In this day and generalization, when the simplest bungalow is constructed with some thought of making it attractive and inviting in appearance, why should anybody think of putting up a thing like the one now under construction on Mendocino avenue, less than a block and a half from the courthouse.

Miss Marion Adams has returned to Carmel after spending 18 months away from the city. As a welcome home Miss Virginia Dutcher invited in a number of friends Saturday evening. They were: Mrs. Inez Pelton, Misses Helen McLachlan, Mary Louise Parsons, Elspeth Rose, Ethel DeWitt, Ethel Palmer and Catherine Wood-Head.

MISS LILLIAS CARROLL WEDS PETER R. RICE

Miss Lillias Carroll, daughter of Mrs. Janet Carroll, postmistress at Pebble Beach, and Mr. Peter Raymond Rice of Carmel, were united in marriage Sunday morning at the Royal Presidio chapel in Monterey. Rev. James C. O'Doherty of the Carmel Mission read the services in the presence of many friends and relatives.

Miss Theodora Gross was the bride's attendant and Mr. George Rice of Worcester, Mass., was best man for his brother.

After the ceremony the bridal party and members of the families had a wedding breakfast at Hotel Del Monte and a reception followed at the bride's home in Pebble Beach.

The newlyweds will make their home in Pebble Beach after they return from their honeymoon.

Miss Charlotte (Pat) Ingram has written her sister, Mrs. Marie McFarland that she is now in charge of the beauty work on the H. F. Alexander, plying between San Diego and Victoria.

Joyce and Jean Thompson of Pebble Beach accompanied by Mrs. Betty Bartholomew leave Friday for a vacation to be be spent in Yosemite. They drive the car which Ernest Thompson, their father, won in a drawing here last week.

Word has been received in Carmel that Miss Elizabeth Le-Conte Elston and Mr. Eugene E. Trefethen of Oakland will be married June 26 in Berkeley. The bride-to-be is a daughter of Mrs. Arthur Elston of Carmel.

THE SONG OF DEACON JONES.

Old Deacon Jones, he couldn't sing; not worth a tinker's dam;
And yet, he joined in everything, and sang "Just as I am—"
As loud as anybody there, as far as I could see.
Poured forth his soul upon the air, but always off the key.

Right after we had "Let us prayed," and passed the plate around
Before the minister essayed theology profound,
He'd say we'll join in singing Hymn Number two,
Then Deacon Jones braced every limb, prepared to see it through

The preacher read a verse aloud, the organ played a bar
The choir rose serene and proud, as church choirs always are,
It sang with care the opening note, or maybe three or four
Then burst from out the deacons throat, that celebrated roar.

It shook the rafters, shook the pews, it shook the countryside,
The deacon longed to spread the news of glory far and wide,
His heart was full of joy today, of joy he longed to shout,
And singing was the only way he had to let it out.

Courageously, the choir withstood, old Deacon Jones attack.
But, as the three sopranos glad gave forth their highest E,
Then Jones let loose with all he had, and countered with a B,
And tried to keep, the best it could, the tune upon the track

But I'm a little older now, as old as he was then,
And Know, or think I know, how the Lord arranges man,
He judges singing, and what we are, from day to day.
And whether we're sincere or not. in all we do or say.

The Deacon sang. He had to sing, His soul was full of grace,
And that's what counts in everything, in church, or any place.
The Deacon's joy the Heavens shook, and not the singer's art,
The choir was singing from the book, The Deacon from his heart.

NEW BEAUTY STUDIO IS OPENED ON DOLORES

Fulfilling a long standing ambition Miss Berwick, who comes with her father to Carmel to establish a beauty studio, is now located in the very building she vowed to occupy "some day" when visiting here eight years ago. And that is the building once occupied by the Jasmine Bush.

Miss Berwick and her father come from San Francisco where for the past nine years they have conducted a beauty shop in the Manhattan building on Geary street. Mr. Berwick is a past master of the City of London Hairdresser's Guild. Miss Berwick has also had much experience.

Mrs. Berwick's career is a colorful one, beginning in Berlin where he apprenticed and going to England at the age of 18 years, climbing so fast in his profession that he was soon chosen to his position of honor.

Miss Berwick told a Californian representative that she uses only the M. Hartman materials, especially made for the trade by a San Francisco chemist, not sold through the wholesale houses.

The Berwicks are among the many new people being welcomed to Carmel.

Their many friends are sorry to learn that the Robert Overlys are leaving Carmel to make their home in Minnesota. Mr. Overly has been in the postoffice here for several years.

After the ceremony, the bridal party left to have their pictures taken but soon returned to join in the dancing, music for which was furnished by the Bisnett orchestra.

Mrs. Grimshaw then opened her gifts in the presence of the guests and sweetly thanked all the donors.

At a late hour, the bride cut her wedding cake and homemade cake and ice cream were served after which the newlyweds left for a visit to SanFrancisco and to the redwoods. Miss Frances Hodges caught the bride's bouquet which she tossed as she and the groom ran for their car in a shower of rice.

On their return they will make their home in Carmel at the Askew house on San Carlos.

Many guests were present who had known the young couple since they were small children, both having been raised on the peninsula. Mrs. Grimshaw is the daughter of Mr.and Mrs. J. J. McCaman of East Monterey and Mr. Grimshaw the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Grimshaw of Carmel.

Washington—Now one of the New Deal's federal bureaus is going to tell you how much gin to put into a martini or how much "sing" goes into a "Singapore Sling". Alcohol Control Administrator W. S. Alexander has called in the nation's outstanding experts on the art of mixing cocktails to determine for him the proper standard of contents for various highballs, fizzes and other mixed drinks. The resulting testimony will be published in a sort of federal "bartender's guide," to sell for five cents.

Maybe the experts will tell the bureaucrats what to do for a headache after November 3.

If you see any evidence of disease in cypress trees, call R. N. Weir, assistant to the agricultural commissioner at Monterey, and he will be glad to examine the trees for canker. The number is Monterey 4186. Look for abnormal cracking of the bark, or perhaps a heavy resin flow. The disease has been located within two miles of Point Lobos and it is especially desirable that it be kept from this famous grove.
